WHOLESALE BUYER RESOURCE

Planning a Wholesale Italian Assortment

Start with customer use cases, then balance dependable staples with distinctive seasonal and specialty items.

- Anchor the assortment with familiar, repeatable pantry staples.
- Use pack formats and shelf space to guide the number of facings.
- Pair complementary categories for merchandising and prepared-food ideas.
- Review seasonal lead times before planning promotions.
- Send a product enquiry list so the sales team can discuss the exact selection.

ORIGINAL RECIPE

Olive Oil and Herb Focaccia

A flexible sheet-pan focaccia suited to sandwich service, bread baskets, or antipasto boards.

- 500 g all-purpose or bread flour
- 10 g fine salt
- 7 g instant yeast
- Mix flour, salt, yeast, water, and half the oil into a sticky dough.
- Cover and rest until visibly risen, then fold the dough over itself several times.
- Oil a sheet pan, stretch the dough gently, and allow it to rise again.

Preparing for a GTA Delivery

A few receiving details help wholesale deliveries move efficiently from the truck to the right storage area.

- Confirm the full receiving address and a reachable on-site contact.
- Share dock, parking, elevator, or access instructions in advance.
- Keep the receiving area clear and suitable storage space ready.
- Review cartons and quantities with the delivery paperwork.
- Report a concern promptly with the relevant item and delivery details.

ORIGINAL RECIPE

Roasted Tomato Pantry Sauce

A batch-friendly tomato sauce that can support pasta, pizza, braises, and prepared-food counters.

- 2 large cans whole or crushed Italian tomatoes
- 1 onion, roughly chopped
- 6 garlic cloves
- Roast onion and garlic with olive oil at 210°C until softened and lightly coloured.
- Add tomatoes, oregano, salt, and pepper to the roasting pan.
- Continue roasting until the sauce thickens around the edges.

ORIGINAL RECIPE

Build a Balanced Antipasto Board

A practical framework for building an antipasto board with colour, texture, and easy replenishment.

- Two or three cured meats
- Two cheeses with contrasting textures
- Olives and preserved vegetables
- Place bowls and cheeses first to establish the board’s structure.
- Fold or layer cured meats in easy-to-lift portions.
- Group olives and vegetables by flavour intensity.

ORIGINAL RECIPE

Panettone Bread Pudding

A warm seasonal dessert that gives sliced panettone a second service format.

- 500 g panettone, cubed
- 750 ml milk
- 250 ml 35% cream
- Butter a shallow baking dish and add the panettone cubes.
- Whisk milk, cream, eggs, sugar, and vanilla until smooth.
- Pour custard over the panettone and rest until evenly absorbed.
