Planning a Wholesale Italian Assortment

Start with customer use cases, then balance dependable staples with distinctive seasonal and specialty items.

- Anchor the assortment with familiar, repeatable pantry staples.
- Use pack formats and shelf space to guide the number of facings.
- Pair complementary categories for merchandising and prepared-food ideas.
- Review seasonal lead times before planning promotions.
- Send a product enquiry list so the sales team can discuss the exact selection.

ORIGINAL RECIPE - ID 1

Olive Oil and Herb Focaccia

A flexible sheet-pan focaccia suited to sandwich service, bread baskets, or antipasto boards.

- 500 g all-purpose or bread flour
- 10 g fine salt
- 7 g instant yeast
- Mix flour, salt, yeast, water, and half the oil into a sticky dough.
- Cover and rest until visibly risen, then fold the dough over itself several times.
- Oil a sheet pan, stretch the dough gently, and allow it to rise again.
